

Ladner trial delayed again

By BRENT MACEY
The trial of John V. Ladner, accused of forgery in connection with Gulfview School repairs, was postponed again Tuesday, this time by Circuit Court Judge Leslie B. Grant until April 5.

Prosecuting Attorney Henry Cook did not object to the continuance requested by Ladner's attorney Joe Sam Owen of Gulfport because he wanted to be as fair as possible to the defendant, Cook said.

This is the fifth time the case has been postponed since Ladner's indictment by the Hancock Grand Jury in January, 1981.

At that time, the janitorial supply salesman and Hancock County election commissioner of District Three, was charged with endorsing and cashing two checks totalling $4,480 in the name of Tommy Lane.

The checks were issued to Lane by the Hancock County School Board following the board's attempt to repair Gulfview Elementary School after a tornado struck the building in May of 1980.

Owen stated Wednesday he requested the continuance to review a list of witnesses he received from the prosecuting attorney only 30 minutes before the expected trial date Tuesday.

Owen said he filed a motion of discovery some seven months ago to obtain all records of incriminating information which Cook had in his possession.

Tuesday Cook said he was willing to give the information to Owen, but wanted Owen to come and get the information from his office in Bay St. Louis.

"I didn't feel I should have to bring it to him," Cook said.

Some 60 potential jurors waited in the courtroom Monday while Owen, Cook and Grant discussed Owen's motion to dismiss the trial because of the late information.

"He argued his point in front of the judge and I argued mine," Cook said. Grant overruled the motion to dismiss the trial.

Owen Wednesday said he will interview the list of witnesses which he expects Cook will call.

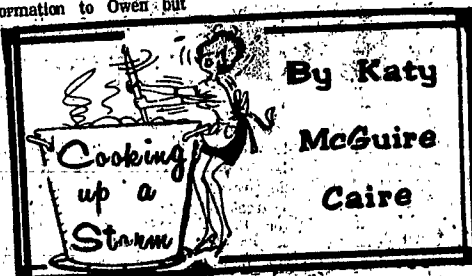

"I wanted the time to get some idea what they are going to testify about," Owen said many on the list were present and former school board members.

While in the judge's chamber, Owen also offered another motion to dismiss the trial on the grounds that too much time had elapsed since Ladner was first indicted, Cook said.

Cook said the law allows the right to a fair and speedy trial.

"When we added up the number of days which would count against us it came out to about 6 days," the prosecutor noted.

Some 270 days are allowed by law, and although the case has been hanging for more than 300 days, Cook said most of the days did not count because both he and the Owen had agreed to having the trial continued.

The artichoke was originally discovered by ancient man when he found this marvelous "thistle" was edible, and wasn't the first one to sample the artichoke courageous, just as the first one to try the tomato, which had been believed to be poisonous?

French settlers in Louisiana and Spanish colonists in California were responsible for plantings in our own country long years ago.

Artichokes are among my favorite of favorites, for the taste is so good and so tantalizing... sometimes untillike, sometimes you'd vow it's crumbly and saucy, and so forth.

I've always considered artichoke balls or casseroles as a delicacy of delicacies, but now I'm singing the praises (my song's a bit muffled by munching sounds) of an artichoke dish that's an appetizer, a tea-time treat, a special casserole, and what have you.

It's Carolyn Simpson's ARTICHOKEDIP.

1 can (14 oz.) Artichoke hearts, drained and mashed
1 cup mayonnaise (6 oz.)
1 cup Parmesan cheese

Mix all well together, put into lightly buttered shallow baking dish or pie pan and bake at 350 degrees for half an hour.

Let it all lightly before serving with Triscuits or other crackers or wafers.
Carolyn says that her sister, who gave her the recipe, insists upon Hellman's mayonnaise, but use your preference.
This is even good after it's cold—that is, if there's any left! I even used it one evening as a "side dish" or casserole to accompany chicken breasts.
A tasty variation of the theme is:

MARIE JOHNSON'S ARTICHOKEDIP

1 can artichokes, drained and mashed
1 cup mayonnaise
1 envelope Good Seasons Italian salad dressing Mix (dry)

Blend together, use as a dip for assorted crackers or for fresh raw vegetables, celery, cauliflower, and so on, or to stuff cherry tomatoes. Delicious, and oh so easy. (Copyright, 1982, Katharine D.M. Caire)

Mr. P.E. Porter Sr.

Mr. P.E. Porter was laid to rest Tuesday in the Gardens of Memory Cemetery, Bay St. Louis.

Known to many Hancockites for his years of being a Pontiac dealer and service station operator, he will be long remembered.

A person dedicated to Hancock County, he was always interested in the well being of his neighbor.

He was a specialist when it came to barbecuing redfish, and oh, how good it would taste!

Mr. Pete was a friend of ours for many years.

A director for 26 years of Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association in Bay St. Louis, the Pennsylvania native found a home in Hancock County when he came here in the early part of this century to work on the old Louisville and Nashville Railroad bridge across the Bay.

For his wife, children and grandchildren, as with so many others, Mr. Pete will remain in memory.

Bits 'n pieces

Mardi Gras is fast approaching and many families and groups are involved in the construction of their floats for the many area parades.

We realize the many carnival organizations such as Nereids, Triton and Eros start float preparations as soon as the last parade is over, but the small groups usually wait until a few weeks and some a few days before a parade.

We would like to urge all those interested in participating with a float in a parade to secure a registration form from the respective carnival organization as soon as possible.

Mardi Gras is a fun time for kids of all ages and we hope everyone will enjoy themselves for the year of 1982.

We were talking to a garden seed supplier last week and she told us calls have already been made for seed potatoes.

Many local gardeners do plant seed potatoes around Valentine's Day which isn't too far away.

There were a lot of gardens in our area last year and indications are many will be planted this spring.

Nothing is more enjoyable than vegetables fresh picked from the garden.

We took a lot of photos last year of 'super' sized vegetables of just about every variety.

It is too early to plant, but it is a good time to start planning what one is going to try this spring.

This afternoon will be the tip-off for the Annual Bay High School Invitational Basketball tournament at the Tiger Dome in Bay St. Louis.

This tourney is one of the highlights of high school basketball each year in Bay St. Louis.

Play will get underway at 3:45 p.m. when the St. Martin and Pass Christian girls start the tourney and end Saturday night with the boys finals at 8:30 p.m., preceded by the girls championship game at 7 p.m.

Other teams in the tourney include Bay High, Hancock North Central, St. Stanislaus, Vancleave, and Long Beach.

Action will start on Friday at 5 p.m., so if you want to see some good basketball visit the Tiger Dome.

The Band Aides, supporters of the Bay High Tiger Pride Band, are sponsoring a spaghetti dinner Saturday, Jan. 23, 4-8 p.m. in the Bay High Cafeteria.

This is one of the many fund raising ventures of the supporters of the band who are trying to raise the necessary funds to attend the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C.

A donation of only $3 per person is requested and we hope many of you will eat supper and at the same time help the Tiger Pride band.

Advanced eye care might save sight

With changing lifestyles and longer lives, Americans are encountering new threats to sight. At the same time, medical and technical advances hold greater promise for preserving vision than ever before.

To preserve our own eyesight, we must assume a more active role. The National Society to Prevent Blindness and its Affiliates alert us to potential problems, and encourage us with this fact: Half of all blindness can be prevented.

Glaucoma, the nation's leading cause of blindness, can generally be arrested with medications. However, regular checkups and early detection are still the best protection, for any vision lost to glaucoma's progress cannot be restored.

Diabetic retinopathy, now the fastest growing cause of new cases of blindness in adults under 75, is yielding to treatment by laser beams. Every diabetic is at risk for this condition and should schedule regular examinations by an eye physician whether or not vision symptoms have appeared.

Diabetes affects an estimated 10 million Americans, and that figure will probably double in the next fifteen years.

Cataracts, another of the most common causes of blindness, can now be treated by surgical techniques that allow the patient to be up and around — at home — in just a few days.

Once the cataract-clouded lens of the eye is removed, options for replacing it now include artificial lenses, implanted within the eye, and extended-wear contact lenses which can be worn continuously around the clock for weeks or months at a time.

Eye injuries, at home, at work, in recreation, and on the job can be prevented nine times out of ten by eye protection and other sensible precautions.

Nearly one million Americans, however, have already lost some degree of sight to injuries, and another estimated 1.5 million persons will suffer an eye injury this year.

Effective, high-strength, protective eyewear has long been utilized in industry, and is available to the public through opticians and suppliers of industrial safety equipment.

Advances in the field of sports and eye protection are now developing standards for eyeguards for racquet sports, a particular concern since injuries in these sports have been escalating with boom in tennis, racquetball and squash.

Meanwhile the Mississippi Affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness provides interim eye protection recommendations for racquet sports.

Free information is available on many aspects of eye disease, eye health in children and eye safety. Write and ask about topics that concern you, your family and friends. The facts are there. Write: Prevent Blindness, 115 Broadview Drive, Jackson, MS 39208.

MISSISSIPPI

Changing an amendment to the state purchasing law enacted by the state Legislature could ultimately save millions of dollars needed by public education, according to a Mississippi Economic Council study.

"The Legislature in 1981 revised bidding procedures for purchasing school transportation equipment," said MEC President Bob Pittman. "This change effectively eliminated competition in the bidding process."

Pittman said that school bus bid tabulations from the State Board of Education reveal a 37 to 43 percent increase in the cost of various models of school buses used in the state after the 1981 legislation.

"The average cost increase on four different models was approximately $10,000," said Pittman. "As these buses have to be replaced, this increase will greatly increase the cost of transporting the state's public school students."

The 1981 legislation, Pittman said, could cost taxpayers $20 million to $30 million as the state's 6,000 school buses are replaced.

Prior to the 1981 change, the State Board of Education received bids and set prices on school buses. Local districts could then purchase from any dealer, as long as the price was not more than the state board's bid.

Under the 1981 change, bus companies now submit their bids to the State Board of Education, which designates the low bid price. Local districts are allowed to purchase their equipment from any supplier, as long as the supplier meets the low bid price.

"Because of this change, bus suppliers are no longer required to be the lowest and best bidder in order to sell their buses to school districts. They must simply meet the low price submitted to the state board."

The change, Pittman said, effectively reduces competition among bidders.

In its study, "The Cost of School Transportation," MEC recommends that the State Board of Education should accept bids for school transportation equipment and establish a maximum price for which districts can purchase their equipment. Local districts should be allowed to purchase from any supplier, as long as the price is below the maximum set by the State Board of Education. However, local districts should purchase equipment from the lowest and best bidder meeting state-established specifications.

MEC also recommends that the State Board of Education should establish a maximum price for which districts can purchase their equipment. Local districts should be allowed to purchase from any supplier, as long as the price is below the maximum set by the State Board of Education. However, local districts should purchase equipment from the lowest and best bidder meeting state-established specifications.

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

More than 4,200 Mississippi households have received assistance in paying their heating bills this far this winter through the Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP).

The Governor's Office of Energy Assistance (GOEA), a division of the Governor's Office of Federal State Programs, reported that more than $683,000 had been distributed with an average payment of $156.

"Approximately $10 million remains to assist some 55,000 additional households," said Carl B. Cooper, GOEA director. "At this point, however, Mississippi's exact funding level is not known," he added. "Last winter, 81,995 households received assistance."

LIEAP is being administered by 23 community based organizations across the state. Persons interested in applying must take proof of household income, such as payroll check stubs, written statements from employers, verifying wages for at least the past month and their energy bills. A statement from their landlord stating that they are paying energy bills via rent payments. All applicants must be the head of the household or this individual's spouse.

Applications are being taken on a first-come, first-serve basis. The one-time household grant may vary from $20 to $200. The amount is determined by income, number in the household, type of fuel used, region of the state in which the applicant lives and the net effect of the energy burden.

Further information on the heating component of LIEAP may be obtained by dialing the Governor's Service Line toll-free number, 1-800-222-7822, or the Jackson number, 961-4042.

Governor William Winter called on the 1982 Legislature to create a trust fund to meet Mississippi's education and economic development needs. In his remarks the governor said, "Mississippi's leaders are not willing to take decisive action to improve the state's economy and school system, then we haven't got any business being here. We keep looking for easy answers. We keep trying not to rock anybody's boat."

"Well," the governor emphasized, "it's not rocking time in Mississippi."

Winter believes that Mississippi will continue to languish in last place in per capita income and will continue to fall behind other Southern states in attracting new industry and investment capital unless a long-term commitment is made to upgrade the state's economic foundation.

The trust fund would finance efforts to upgrade the state's secondary school curriculum, enrich vocational and technical training, improve teacher training and competency, establish preschool education, improve libraries, and develop new university programs geared to the needs of business, agriculture and industry.

In his talk to House and Senate members, Winter said, "It's time to get off our backsides and decide we aren't going to let anything or anybody or any set of circumstances keep us from making this state more competitive."

Winter's trust fund proposal to make the state more competitive would be financed by an increase in the oil and gas severance tax from 8 to 9 percent.

Winter noted that the experience of other states shows that a severance tax increase will not hinder production. Twelve states have increased their severance tax since 1970.

Moreover, the increase would not be felt by Mississippi consumers because all prices are set by worldwide market factors and approximately 80 percent of Mississippi's natural gas is shipped out of state.

Screening Room Only

BY DAVID H. JONES

An Observation on Network News: The Air Florida incident.

Amidst the cold and freezing rain, there it was.

People being jerked through the frigid air on cables, flying through snow, ice chunks and debris and acts of heroism.

Computer heroes: coming home on a miserable winter day in the Nation's capital.

An Air Florida jet suddenly pierces the grey white sky, slamming its 100,000-pound, slightly airborne fuselage into the 14th Street Bridge.

It shears off the tops of cars, tumbles into the frozen Potomac River and begins to sink. Brakes are screeching in bewilderment and horror.

One believes the call to the hospital and rescue personnel has already been completed...because distant sirens squall hopefully through the city.

A few people have appeared in the river, clutching pieces of broken jet.

The wind whips and the crowds are appearing, pointing, screaming, helping. Helicopters beat furiously into the scenario, a single cable dangling like a thread...fantasizing.

The ambulances have managed to push through a sea of logjammed automobiles. Washington police are on hand. The rescue workers struggle valiantly. A lady loses her grip on the towline and begins to go under. Out of the corner of our picture screen, a man stretches his body into a dive and plunges into the icy river, swimming madly toward the sinking victim. He gets her. She will live.

All this came to us via network news. Pictures as sharp and clear as your thought you were at the scene of this tragedy. And the networks handled it admirably.

Unlike events almost one year ago, i.e. the shooting of President Reagan, the networks stayed away from speculation and reported what they saw. And what they saw was gruesome and yet important.

Pulling five survivors from a planeload of 79 was extraordinary...and the American people wanted to see...and know what had happened even as they shivered in their own homes.

The pressure was felt by all concerned, especially Air Florida officials and National Airport personnel. Maybe the accident was unavoidable; maybe, if they had asked the passengers whether or not they thought the flight should be cancelled, they would have flown anyway. Or maybe not. The investigation will take months. We only know that a planeload of our fellow citizens rests at the bottom of a river.

We see the recorded aftermath. The tales of survival. A controlled, middle-aged man propped up in his hospital bed, a pilot himself with two fractured legs, speculating on the causes of the crash. "Pilot error? Plane malfunction?"

And the tales of heroism that far exceeded the triumphant effort of Legmy Shunk. A victim of the plane crash, suffering from hypothermia, passing the lifeline to others before he sank below the bitter surface.

President Reagan surveyed the site...only two miles from the White House. It must have affected him as deeply as the American public, because his speeches around New York City that day were filled with references to the ugly incident...as well as noting the volunteers who risked their lives to save others. "True Americanism!"

The networks did their job. They brought us the news without speculation and without pushing the survivors or the victim's relatives. As horrifying and as chilling as the crash was, the networks became the seeing-eye for us all. It was reality at its worst, but television news at its best.

Bay gas rates increase

By BRENT MAURY

Gas rate increases for residents in Bay St. Louis, retroactive since Jan. 1, 1982, will show up on the next bill which is expected to arrive at customers' homes some 10 days later than normal.

The Bay St. Louis city council accepted the "bad news" at its Tuesday meeting and noted there is nothing they can do to prevent the increase.

"I'll give you the bad news first," Eddie Favre, city clerk told the council at the beginning of his regular report on the affairs of this office.

Favre said the city recently received a notice from United Gas Company that rates will increase 5.2 percent for customers and 13.7 percent for the city.

Wednesday, Bennett said the city could do nothing but accept the rate increase.

He noted the rate increase requests have been approved by the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

Bennett said the "cold weather" prevented the gas meters from being read on their regular monthly schedule.

"The bills will be some 10 days late as a result," he said.

In other business, the board agreed to write a letter to Hancock County Public Service Commission.

Also during the Monday meeting, the board approved a plan to renovate Washington Street Park after reviewing the plan presented by James Chiniche, project engineer.

The board then agreed to advertise for bids to re-surface two tennis courts, a basketball court and construct a new basketball court.

The project will receive 100 percent funding through Housing and Urban Development, Chiniche said, some $2,500 has been awarded to the city for the improvements through the 1982 Small Cities Project.

The engineer said a merry-go-round will also be replaced, and a see-saw and swing set will be renovated.

If money is left over from those projects, Chiniche said park benches may be installed and the water fountain relocated. Fencing may also be added to surround the tennis courts and much of the park area.

In other business, the board agreed to advertise for an engineer needed to prepare bid specifications so repair work on the Lehigh Boulevard well can be advertised. The councilmen noted the engineering work would include writing plans and specifications for either rebuilding the well or replacing the current screen of the bottom of the well with a new one. At a previous meeting the council was informed that the well was pumping sand because the current screen is old. The council has not yet decided whether to replace the screen or rebuild the well.

Approved a recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Committee to require developers of Bay Cove Subdivision to install covered drainage ditches instead of open drainage ditches.

Heard a report from Ron Murray, consultant for the 1982 Small Cities Project. Murray said he has met with a Citizens Advisory Board and earmarked some seven homes for demolition and acquisition in the project area. He intends to review the sites with the committee and pick three homes for acquisition and demolition in the near future.

In March

County office to computerize

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Chancery clerk's office will enter the computer age in early March when a Wang computer system is installed.
E. Michael Necaise, Chancery clerk, Wednesday said county payroll checks will be processed with the new equipment immediately after installation.
He also said county investments and equipment inventories for his office and each district will be placed in the machine's memory banks.
The County Board of Supervisors Monday morning accepted a lone bid from Data Processing Consultants of Hattiesburg for the Wang system which costs about $30,000.

A cost breakdown of the computer system includes:
- Basic equipment at $20,952;
- Software at $7,000;
- Estimated freight costs at $250;
- Supplies and paper at $1,500;
- Training of county personnel at $300 per-hour and 23 cents-per-mile mileage.
Necaise estimated training costs will ultimately total $300 to $400.

The chancery clerk noted the county will save approximately one-half on payroll processing costs. He said the county now pays Data Processing $460 per-month to prepare county payroll checks.

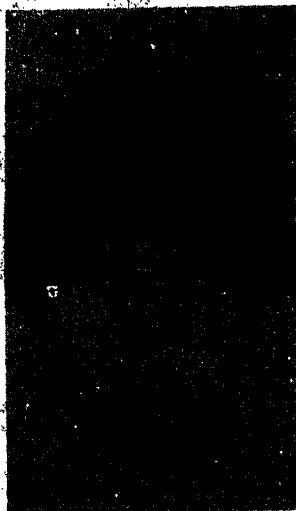

Data Processing will furnish the county with payroll programs and charge the county a $60 monthly maintenance fee after an initial three-month 90-day free maintenance period expires.
Necaise said Hancock will truly enter a new technology era on Oct. 1, the beginning of the county's fiscal year, when all bookkeeping will be processed through the Wang system.
Information Necaise hopes to process with the system after Oct. 1 includes tax and land rolls, tax billing, voter registration, jury selection and claims docket checks.
Rick Maddox of Hattiesburg, a Data Processing representative, told the supervisors Monday that 12 Mississippi counties are now processing bookkeeping, payrolls, claims docket checks and investments programs with computers.

He added that in those counties with auditors have approved records which have been processed by the computers.
Necaise reports the computer will be placed in his bookkeeping department where Elsie Kenny, head bookkeeper, and E.J. Toomey, her assistant, will be trained to operate the equipment.

The chancery clerk said he will also be trained to operate the system in order to teach other personnel in his office how to process information.

Investigators probing Firetower Road holdup

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
An ongoing investigation by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and State Highway Patrol has not turned up any leads in a Saturday night robbery of a Firetower Road woman.
Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson, Wednesday said the department received a telephone call at about 8:30 p.m. from Virginia Guilbeau, who reported she had been robbed by a woman while attempting to enter her home.
"Our investigation revealed that Guilbeau was returning home alone to her Firetower Road home. She drove into her driveway, got out of her car and walked to the door with a .38 caliber pistol in her left hand and a door key in her other hand," he stated.
"As she put the key in the front door, Guilbeau was hit from behind by an assailant believed to be a woman in her early twenties, about five-foot four or five inches tall, slim and wearing a blue jacket, jeans and a beanie cap pulled down close to her eyes," Peterson reported.

COMPOSITE SKETCH OF SUSPECT

The sheriff said Guilbeau was struck numerous times on the back of her head apparently with a blackjack.
"Guilbeau's gun fell to the ground as a result of the attack. The assailant picked up the gun, held it on Guilbeau and took all the diamond rings off her fingers," he stated.
Peterson reported the robber fled with Guilbeau's rings, gun and purse containing credit cards and money.
The sheriff said he is awaiting Guilbeau's report of the number of rings stolen and the approximate value of all items taken.
"She was treated for head lacerations at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis and released," Peterson noted.
"At this time, we have no suspects, but we feel the armed robber was a professional who was watching Guilbeau's movements and was waiting for her at the residence," he stated.
Peterson said Investigator Alvin Ladner of the Hancock department and T.P. Naylor of the highway patrol are investigating the incident.

HGH shows $61,000 quarterly profit

By ELLIS DUEVAS
Mike Hallford, controller of Hancock General Hospital, told trustees Tuesday, "We are in a much better financial shape at this time than we were last January."
"Our fiscal year began on Sept. 1 and at the end of December, for three months of operation of the fiscal year we show a profit of $61,000. At this time last year we had to borrow $150,000 from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to anticipate tax revenues," Hallford added.
The patient census at the local hospital is on the increase compared with the last fiscal year with daily averages of 30 patients per day in December of 1981.

compared to 28 in 1980, according to the controller.
Hallford said, "Through midnight Jan. 17, 1980 we had a census of 32 and the same period during 1981 has been averaging 41 patients."
Phil Langston, HGH administrator, attributed more doctors in the area helping to increase the census plus more services offered by the hospital.
Langston, who was asked by the trustees to look into the possibility of securing a double mobile home for use as a relief to some of the congested areas at the hospital, said he had been in contact with a tractor for steel buildings who could give us more square footage for about the same as a portable building."

"We could move the materials management area and possibly the maintenance department in the steel building and use those spaces for the physical therapy and some bookkeeping into those areas without very much renovations. The in-house maintenance people could do the remodeling," Langston indicated.
"The estimated cost on the portable building earlier discussed was around $25,000. The trustees as well as the administrator felt it was not necessary to go ahead with the additional space at this time, but would keep a close eye on the census in the months ahead."

The trustees were unanimous in approving the purchase of a new coil for the air conditioning system of the operating room. The coil will be replaced until needed to replace an old one recently repaired because of the freeze.
Langston indicated the old coil had about three or four years of previous repairs and would need replacing.
Approval was also given for the purchase of a surgical microscope which can be used in contact, operations and Business sessions and a workshop on moving membership recruitment and Long Range Planning Committee members operating a facility. The long range planning committee recommended the trustees have another study made, but the trustees felt the original study was adequate and the planning committee should restudy the first report recently done by HCA.

Estimates of a second study would have run about $10,000-12,000.
Hallford told the trustees he would be leaving on Jan. 27 to go into private practice in his hometown of Doherty, Ala. as a certified public accountant.

Brother Martin stated, "We appreciate the fine job you have done since coming here."
Hallford replied, "I have enjoyed working with each of you and will miss you all. It has been a good year and two months."
Langston said a person from HCA would fill in as controller until a new person is hired and some interviews were already scheduled.
"Mike (Hallford) did a fine job setting up the accounting department and someone from HCA will be here on an acting basis," Langston allowed.
The trustees' final action was approval of Langston attending a professional meeting in Memphis later this month.

Coaches comment on:

Bay tournament to begin tonight

By BRENT MACEY
The 46th Annual Bay High School Invitational Tournament will get underway Thursday in Tiger Dome and area coaches speculated Wednesday on the type of action expected.

Tiger Head Basketball Coach Jerry Spell was cautious but optimistic about the Tigers' Thursday night game at 8:45 p.m. against Vancleave.

"We beat them this last Friday by 32 points," Spell said about that contest which ended 71-39 in Bay High's favor.

"We didn't have much trouble with them that night but they had an exceptionally bad evening. They had just come back from the cold weather and hadn't been playing. So we're not taking them too lightly."

Spell said the Tigers may have a "good chance" of taking the tournament.

St. Stanislaus Coach Steve North was not so optimistic about the Rocks' chances against St. Martin Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m.

"We have got our work cut out for us," North said.

"We started with a victory this season and we are now down to six."

North noted that Shawn Henderson, a starting guard for the Rocks, has left school. Emory Edwards is also out with an eye injury.

North expects to be starting with only three regulars on Thursday.

"But I don't want to appear to be making excuses. Even if we were at full force I don't think we would be considered a favorite. The talent for this years tournament is excellent," he said.

North gives the Long Beach Bearcats the edge in the competition.

"They (Long Beach) have beaten Hancock North Central quickly and they have a good coach and a good team. When you put those combinations together any team with those ingredients is going to be tough to beat."

Pass Christian Head Coach David Lipscombe would not give either The Pirates or Long Beach the edge in that game scheduled for Thursday at 6:15 p.m.

"We'll have to play it first," he said.

"I don't know that much about Long Beach but I expect a tough game," he said.

North noted the Bearcats' season includes a number of games against AA teams since Long Beach is an AA ball club.

"They started the season off but they have really improved."

"They're a big team and have good talent," he added.

"We could make a difference. We're not that tall, rounded."

Hancock North Central boys' varsity Head Coach Mike Hally could not be reached for comment and the girls' varsity Head Coach Larry Johnson would not comment on the girls' competition.

Hancock's boys and girls teams both drew byes in the first round of action Thursday. Their first games will be scheduled for Friday.

"All I want to say about the girls' game is that Bay High has always had a good tour-namment in the past and I'm looking forward to another one this year," Johnson said.

In reference to the boys' competition, Johnson said the tournament "could be a shooting match."

"I think their could be five possible champions," Johnson said about the six boys' varsity teams scheduled to play.

Hancock nips Pass

The Hancock North Central boys' varsity basketball team nipped Pass Christian in the final seconds to take a 42-40 victory in Tuesday night action in the Pass.

With the score tied at 40 a piece, Hawk Neal Lader took and inbounds pass and hit a short jumper as the buzzer sounded.

The game was close throughout although the Pass Pirates at one point had a seven point lead in the final quarter.

Pass Christian Head Coach David Lipscombe noted the Pirates missed too many free throws which gave the Hawks their opportunity to win.

Lader was high scorer for Hancock with 16 points followed by Brian Arcement with 14.

Pirates Ben Fields and Brent Cannon both totalled 16 for the night.

The Pirates loss brings their season record to 10-8.

Tammy Dedeaux for the Pass was high scorer with 20 points.

Hawkette Betsy Arcement totalled 15 points. Myra Hall scored 12 and Dugwanna Dedeaux hit for 10.

The Pass boys team will be facing Long Beach Thursday at the Bay High School Invitational Tournament while the girls will be matched against St. Martin.

Those contests followed Wednesday's action against Vancleave.

The Hawkettes will be facing the winner of the Pass Christian-St. Martin game on Friday.

Wayne Karl upsets Louisiana opponent

Gulfport Boxing Club's Wayne Karl of Bay St. Louis staged a comeback victory over Dwayne (Bubba) Lemone of Waggaman, La. in the Louisiana fighter's hometown Saturday night.

Karl took a unanimous decision, a sweet win for the Hancock County pugilist after suffering a defeat at the hands of Lemone in Silver Gloves competition recently in Kenner, La.

Returning to the win column in Waggaman was Wayne's brother Chuck Karl, also wearing the Gulfport shirt.

Boxing Club coles

Chuck Karl bested Mark Mitchell of Saraland, Ala., a 1981 Golden Gloves champion, with a unanimous decision after three hard-fought rounds.

Karl delivered a combination of hard-lefts and rights to accumulate his winning point margin.

The Gulfport Boxing Club will participate in matches this week at the Ocean Springs Boxing Club Saturday.

In addition, the boxers are training for Golden Gloves competition in mid-February.

Open a Hancock Bank Individual Retirement Account, and CUT YOUR TAXES.

One of the biggest tax breaks in years has come along, and it's waiting for you, at Hancock Bank. It's the Individual Retirement Account—and it just may be the only real weapon you have to beat back inflation and save for your retirement.

Cut your taxes two ways.

IRAs have been around for a while now, but effective January 1st, sweeping new changes make them more attractive than ever. With the new rules, now anyone with earned income can open an IRA, whether already covered by a pension plan or not. And the annual maximums you can contribute to an IRA have changed, too. Beginning in January, individuals can contribute up to $2,000 (up to $2,250 for yourself and non-working spouse). And if you both work, the ceiling goes up to $4,000.

Here's the best part. The full amount you contribute each year to your IRA is tax-deductible. And all the money in your IRA, including interest, is tax-deferred until you begin withdrawing it when you'll likely be in a lower tax bracket.

Tax-deferred savings grow faster.

The money that stays in your IRA account that would have gone to taxes makes a dramatic difference in how your nest egg grows. For example, if you deposited $2,000 every year to your IRA for the next 30 years, that $60,000 will balloon to over $380,000, based on a conservative 10% annual compounded return.

Get the facts.

To find out how to get in on this monumental tax break, stop by any Hancock Bank office. We'll show you how to cut your taxes the rest of your life, with the tax-cut of a lifetime.

HANCOCK BANK
The IRA experts.

*Federal regulations require a 10% penalty for early withdrawal of funds from an IRA. Also, the Internal Revenue Service imposes a 10% penalty on the amount withdrawn, and the amount withdrawn must be included in taxable income.

SHOPLIFT...

Take a look at the whole picture. Shoplifting leads to a permanent police record, and sometimes even a lengthy jail sentence and large fines that could destroy your chances at a decent job, an education, even a loan. So if you're tempted to shoplift, think about it. It's not the black picture in store for you.

RECEIVED - POST OFFICE

The image is a high-contrast, black and white scan of a dark, textured surface. It appears to be a book cover or endpaper, characterized by a dense network of fine scratches, dust specks, and larger irregularities. A prominent, bright, and somewhat amorphous white area is visible on the left side, which could be a reflection, a piece of tape, or a significant tear in the material. The overall texture is grainy and noisy, typical of a low-quality scan of a dark subject. There are some faint, horizontal lines and patterns that might be remnants of text or a design, but they are mostly obscured by the noise and the high contrast.

Kiln artist to appear on Friday talk show

A kiln artist will be featured Friday on a local television talk show.

Gladys Hays is scheduled to appear with several of her paintings on "Good Morning South Mississippi" aired on WLOX Channel 13 at 9 a.m.

Hays is a retired kindergarten teacher and a student of Ned Ducomb, a Hancock County artist.

The Kiln woman's work will also be displayed in the Gulfport Memorial Hospital lobby during the month of February.

Ducomb is now displaying 20 paintings at Sterling Drug Co. headquarters on Hwy. 49 in Gulfport.

His works, which will be displayed through the end of this month, include oil and watercolor paintings of still lifes, landscapes and seascapes.

Festival to celebrate city's cultural heritage

The University of Walker Percy, writer and Mississippi Center for the Study of Southern Culture has received a grant to help sponsor a festival this spring that will celebrate the unique cultural contributions of Greenville.

The Mississippi Committee for the Humanities recently awarded the Center $10,000 for the festival, which will highlight culture and heritage of the Greenville area.

In announcing the award Dr. Cora Norman, executive director of the state humanities committee, said the festival "will promote better understanding of the humanities and their value by making Mississippians aware of the state's diverse cultural heritage, as symbolized by Greenville."

The festival is titled "The Time Has Come" and is scheduled for April 2-May 2.

The idea for the event was developed by Dorothy Abbott, a visiting researcher at the Ole Miss Center, who interprets the national impact of writers, artists and musicians hailing from Greenville.

Among those who have made a national impact are National Book Award winner

Various civic and community groups from Greenville also are participating in the festival. A local steering committee, made up of 10 Greenville residents, is helping to coordinate festival events.

One session scheduled for the festival is a panel discussion by three Greenville-born historians, each of whom has written a textbook about the state. Panel members include Dr. John Ray Skates of the University of Southern Mississippi, Dr. Charles Ballis of Mississippi College and Dr. David Sams, professor of history at Ole Miss.

Other program participants include authors Shelby Steele and Ellen Douglas; poets Angela Jackson and D. C. Berry; sculptors Leon Koiry and William N. Beckwith; and photographers Dan Guravich and Frank Keating.

Further information about the Greenville festival is available through the University of Southern Mississippi at 662-5000.

ETV Brief

GREAT RELIGIONS

Dr. Edward V. Bauman explores the common roots and distinctive beliefs of three of the world's great religions in a new series, "Children of Abraham."

The series can be seen at 2 p.m., Sundays, beginning Jan. 24, on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

For the series, Bauman and an interfaith committee choose one topic that is applicable to Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Three programs will be devoted to each topic: the Jewish view, the Christian view and the Muslim view. The first half of each program includes a brief introduction by Bauman with art and music and an interview with a representative of the view being presented. In the second half, the discussion continues with a panel composed of representatives of all three religions.

The title of the series, "Children of Abraham," is derived from the fact that all three religions trace their lineage back to the patriarch Abraham.

Hancock NAACP celebrates Dr. King's birthday

In remembrance of the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, a local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sponsored a banquet at Gulfside Assembly.

The occasion drew a full house, as members of NAACP, some 200 members of the Black Community in Hancock County and their invited guests met to celebrate the American civil rights leader who worked to bring about social, political and economic equality for Blacks by peaceful means.

Boyd James Jr., assistant principal of Gulfport High School and guest speaker for the evening, told the audience they came to celebrate "but not to leave here celebrating."

"The man challenged you to go out and make the dream more of a reality for you."

King died as a result of an assassin's bullet in 1968, and Boyd noted the work King began now rests in the lyrics.

"If you can do nothing except help the person next door, then you ought to be about it now," Boyd said.

He advocated taking a job, even the most menial one, but warned against accepting a job only to be a quota.

Much of the speech included a discussion of the past, of the struggles of Black people from their first days of freedom.

He noted the church provided a good religious base which helped those folks through the Jim Crow era.

He asked the audience to continue to strive for self improvement.

Also during the evening, solos were performed by Juanita Mitchell, Phillip Williams and Robert Weaver.

Ethel Johnson performed a dramatic rendition of a poem "Ain't Gonna Back." And Anthony Quinn recited excerpts from two famous King speeches, including "I have a dream" and "I've been to the mountain top."

As a final highlight of the evening, the contestants for "Mother of the Year" were awarded plaques in appreciation of their efforts to raise money for the local NAACP chapter.

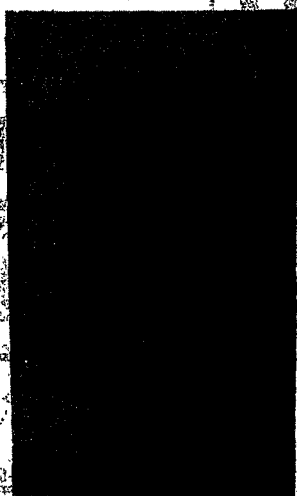

Ten percent of the money raised by each woman will go to the church to which each contestant belongs.

Runners-up receiving honors were, Nell Thomas of St. Rock United Methodist Church in Waveland, Ruth Franklin of Little Providence Baptist in Catahoula, Pauline Harrington of Macedonia Baptist Church in Waveland and Irene Benoit of St. Rose De Lima Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

Gwen Ishem of Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis was awarded a plaque and a bouquet of flowers after being selected as the 1962 Mother of the Year.

Ole Miss to offer unique instruction

People who think instruction in the French language requires only a teacher, a dictionary and a classroom may want to look at a new approach being developed at The University of Mississippi in a special summer enrichment program for high school students.

"Camp Francals," to be offered June 20-26 on the Oxford campus, is a study program with no classroom lectures. Instead, students develop a thematic vocabulary in cooperation with native French speakers in preparation for such activities as French drama, shopping excursions, trips to the beach, sports activities, cooking classes, French films and card and board games in the evenings.

French television programs will be shown on television sets in an air-conditioned dormitory provided exclusively for "Camp Francals" participants.

Dr. Jack Davis Brown, acting chairman of the Department of Modern Languages at Ole Miss, developed the novel approach to learning the French language and culture.

"Camp Francals" will be offered by the modern languages department in cooperation with the Division of Continuing Education. "We are not going for the total immersion, where there are rules that only French is spoken at all times," Dr. Brown explained. "We want to provide an enjoyable week of French life, with unlimited opportunities to use conversational French in a program that is fun and interesting."

Workshops will be held with native speakers who will lead a conversational group in which the vocabulary will be developed for the afternoon's activity. "Most people are so used to the classroom concept, that this will be a totally new approach for this part of the country," Dr. Brown said. "We are the 'happiest' for this part of instruction. We're providing the basics in a sociological approach where people interact with each other. That approach should be a definite advantage to students when they return to their schools."

Another aim of "Camp Francals" is to develop a sense of camaraderie for participants. In addition to special group activities, there will be a special camp T-shirt, "Camp Francals" buttons, and other identifying materials. To be eligible for "Camp Francals," a student must have completed the ninth grade.

Two programs can be seen each week at 5 and 6:30 p.m. Sundays, beginning Jan. 24.

SELF-MADE MILLIONAIRE
Interviewer John Callaway visits with multi-millionaire Armand Hammer on "John Callaway Interviews" at 1 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 24, on the Mississippi ETV Network. In 1921, Armand Hammer was a self-made millionaire, ready to retire at the age of 22. He didn't, and now at 43, Hammer is more than a millionaire. He is one of the world's most influential businessmen. John Callaway, in his interview, seeks to find out what drives him to buy the world's great art treasures and about his significant role in international affairs. Hammer talks animatedly about how he made his various fortunes in pharmaceuticals, pencils, art, whiskey, cattle and oil. He describes his nine-year sojourn in the Soviet Union in the 1920s during which time he befriended Lenin. He talks about his relations with such world figures as Khrushchev and Brezhnev.

keeping you in touch

By Don Roberts
District Manager

If you make a lot of long distance calls within Mississippi, our Tel-A-Thrift service may be a real bargain for you. Tel-A-Thrift service gives you 60 minutes of in-state long distance calling each month for only $8.40. If you use more than 60 minutes of calling in a month, you pay 84 cents for each additional six minutes.

Here's how it works:

- The service is available only to residence customers.
- Calls must be dialed direct, without operator assistance.
- Only calls made between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. weeknights, all day Saturdays, and Sundays until 5 p.m. are included in Tel-A-Thrift. Calls made at other times are billed at the normal long distance rate.
- There is a one-minute minimum for each call. Other than that, you can divide the 60 minutes any way you choose - from one long call to 60 short ones.
- If you'd like to have Tel-A-Thrift service, call your South Central Bell service representative. The number is printed on your phone bill.
- There is a small charge for establishing the service.

Here are some tips to help keep your telephone bill down:

- Use Directory Assistance (DA) calls wisely. As part of your local service, you can make up to ten DA calls each billing month at no extra charge. Each DA call over the ten-call allowance costs you 20 cents. Look up numbers in the phone book and jot them down where they'll be handy the next time you need them.
- Be sure to dial your own local calls. If you ask an operator to dial a local call that you could have dialed yourself, you'll be charged a 25-cent surcharge.

Someone's waiting.
Reach out with long distance.

Mississippi Brownbuilder T.J. Faulkner: One of the Best

Tommy Joe Faulkner, from Pascagoula, is helping build the economic growth and progress of his state as part of Brown & Root's worldwide engineering and construction team. T.J. joined Brown & Root in 1981 as a welding inspector. He and his wife, Julie, have a son attending Arlington Elementary School. T.J. enjoys hunting and fishing, as well as bowling on the weekends. Another thing about T.J. is he's one of the best. He's helping Brown & Root do a better job, because he knows his job and gets it done right. Wherever Brown & Root works, we always look for people like T.J. We give preference in hiring to people in jobs, communities and offer them opportunities to advance as fast and as far as their abilities and merit take them. That way we share the benefits of every job with local people and share the economic benefits of Brown & Root purchases, savings and trade with local communities and states.
